P&O Apartments: Property services

P&O APARTMENTS is a Polish-based company that offers total management services for both tenants and landlords, via the internet.

Their main office is in Warsaw, where they specialised in short term apartments lets for the past six years. When they moved to Marbella almost two years ago, being the first Polish real estate company in the area, they also began dealing with short-term rentals, but have now expanded their activity to selling properties and dealing with long-term rental contracts.

For owners wanting to sell their properties, they offer the possibility of taking professional photos and a video that will be put on their website. The site has a very high position in the Google Search Engine, which means more people will find them, view the website, and more importantly for the clients, see their property for sale, increasing the number of prospective buyers.

For buyers, they have a range of carefully selected, interesting offers, all of which have been checked and viewed by the company.
